52nd Grand Chapitre de Grande Bretagne Edinburgh, 1-3 July 2011

Dear Consoeurs and Confrères

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to join us at our 52nd Grand Chapitre in the historic city of Edinburgh. This will be our first Grand Chapitre in Scotland's capital and it offers a wealth of interesting things to see and do and we suggest you add a few days on to the Grand Chapitre to be able to see it all and perhaps explore the highlands and islands whilst you are here. We purposely chose mid-summer for the event to be able to enjoy long days of sunlight to make the most of your visit.

Our base will be the very recently renovated Sheraton Grand Hotel situated near the Usher Hall, with fine view of the castle and great spa for all you sybarites. Our weekend starts with an outstanding golf day at Gleneagles. Our three dinner venues are all very different and all historically important. Surgeons Hall, The Castle Suite at the 'Caley' and the Royal Yacht Britannia. In the Chaîne tradition, the teams at all three have planned great menus reflecting both the location and time of year and you are ensured to leave saying 'wow'.

For those of you for whom this is your first trip to Edinburgh we strongly recommend taking the open-top bus tour on Saturday afternoon as the fastest way to get an appreciation of the city. The trips on Sunday again focus on things that are unique to the area - with options to explore the Firth of Forth by boat or visit historic buildings and for all the Da Vinci Code enthusiasts a chance to match the book or film with the reality of Rosslyn Chapel.

The encouragement and support of the next generation of talent is one of the Chaîne's key objectives and our Grand Chapitre gives us the opportunity to recognise publically the talents of our young professionals both the Best Young Chef and the Best Young Sommelier and wish them well in their careers.

On Sunday evening our Chaîne Worldwide Dinner is a 'once in a lifetime' opportunity to dine as would have Royalty and Heads of State on the unique Royal Yacht Britannia.

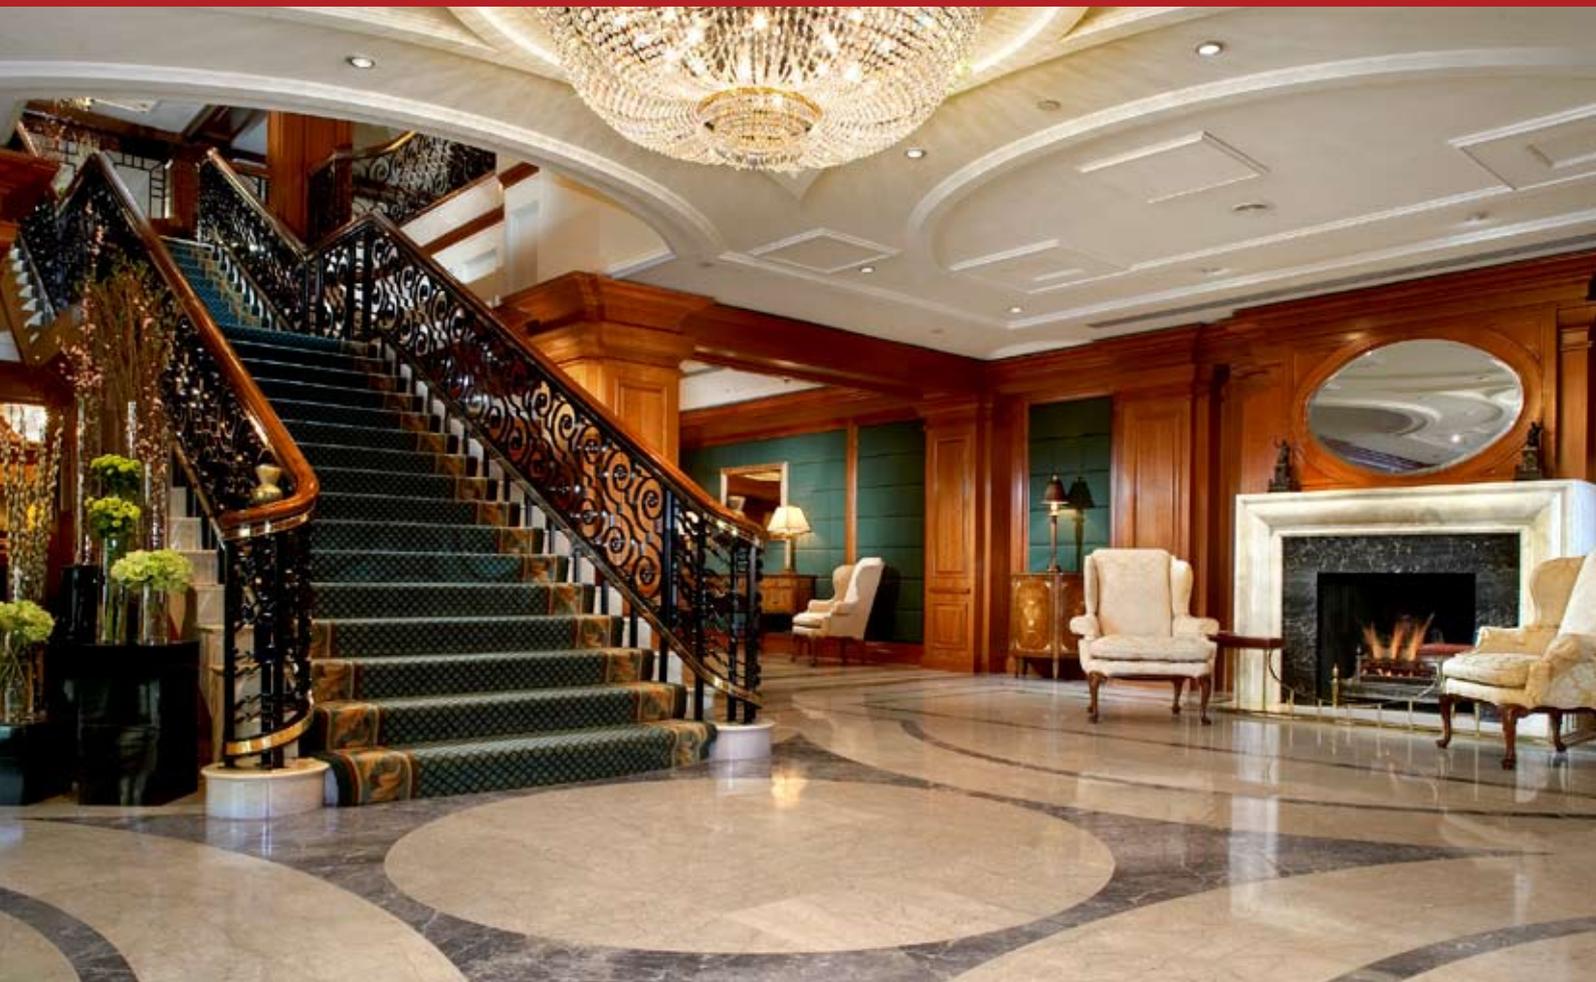

We look forward to welcoming you all, together with your guests, to a weekend of cultural interest, culinary and vinious excellence and, most of all, great camaraderie.

Vive la Chaîne!

Not all top chefs use Gaggenau at home yet.

A fact that kept us busy.

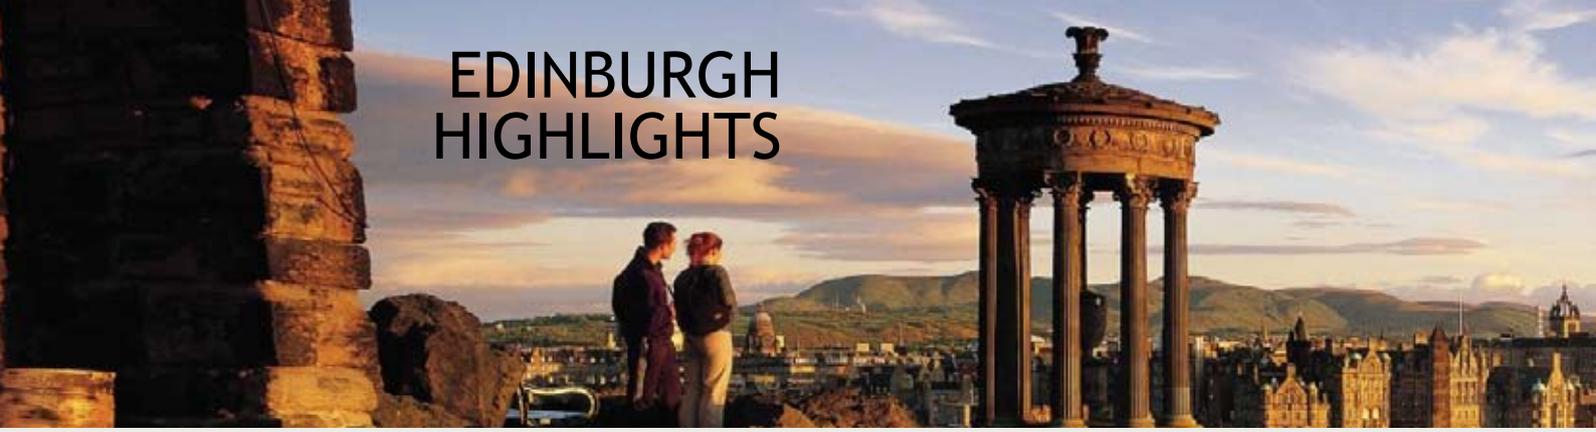

Uncompromisingly professional. The 200 series ovens.

To satisfy the world's greatest chefs, we meet the very highest standards. The 200 series ovens bring the most modern professional technology into private kitchens, with ovens, Combi-steam ovens and warming drawers that set new standards. Many chefs who have been awarded three Michelin stars are already convinced – they don't just use the range at home, but also in their restaurants. We take that as a compliment. The difference is Gaggenau.

Whether you are a pro or an enthusiastic beginner, the Gleneagles golf courses offer an exhilarating test for any golfer.

PRIVATE OPEN TOP GUIDED BUS TOUR

The capital of Scotland since the 15th Century, Edinburgh stands on seven hills creating the dramatic skyline of this lively cosmopolitan city. What better way to see this fantastic city than from an open-top double decker bus.

Compare Edinburgh's Old Town, where families lived in cramped conditions and rubbish was thrown out of the windows, to the elegant Georgian New Town with its three main streets and a square at either end.

Hear about the hangings that took place in the Grassmarket as you marvel at the impenetrable Castle Rock above you and hear about the attempts to capture Edinburgh Castle.

See the Royal Mile which joins Edinburgh Castle to the Palace of Holyrood House and park - the Queen's park with Arthur's Seat, the extinct volcano at its centre.

Have your camera ready for this fantastic tour through this beautiful city.

MAID OF THE FORTH

Enjoy magnificent views of the world famous Forth Bridges from open top deck as you cruise downriver past Inchgarvie and towards Inchcolm. Known as the 'Iona of the East', Inchcolm has been a significant place in Scottish history and lore, and continues to engage the imagination today.

Onboard commentary tells you of the features as they pass, and the skipper gives live input whenever some wildlife is sighted. You can see seals, comical little puffins, cormorants, Eider ducks, fulmars, gannets and guillemots as well as occasional sightings of porpoise and dolphins

DAKOTA HOTEL - LUNCH

Fantastic, fresh food using the best local suppliers from this Scottish Seafood Restaurant of the year

From the fish served the very day it is caught by Scotland's finest fish merchants, to the 28 day, matured on the bone steaks, every meal is expertly prepared by the finest emerging young chefs from all corners of the UK, using the finest seasonal produce from around the British Isles.

EDINBURGH HIGHLIGHTS

LAURISTON CASTLE

Located only a little over three miles from the centre of Edinburgh, Lauriston Castle overlooks the Firth of Forth and enjoys spectacular views of the Forth Bridges, across the Firth to the Fife coast and to the mountains of Perthshire beyond.

The castle retains its historic policy, or enclosed park, which was formed during the mid-nineteenth century from a portion of the original estate (first recorded in the Exchequer Rolls of 1290).

The historic garden was also laid out at this time. The Edinburgh/Kyoto Friendship Garden is one of the largest Japanese gardens created in the United Kingdom in the course of the last 100 years.

The oldest part of the castle, a Scottish fortified tower house, dates from the 1590s, and was built for Sir Archibald Napier, father of the famous mathematician and inventor of logarithms, John Napier.

Over the following centuries the castle changed hands on several occasions and was the home of a number of notable Scots, including John Law. He was a remarkable character and brilliant financier, who rose to power in France under the patronage of the Duc D'Orleans, Regent of the infant Louis XV, becoming controller general of the finances of France.

EDINBURGH HIGHLIGHTS

ROSSLYN CHAPEL

Roslin is an ancient village in Midlothian in Scotland, situated east of the Pentland Hills on the bank of the river North Esk between Penicuik and Lasswade, 6 miles south of Edinburgh.

Roslin was created a burgh in 1456 and grew with mining as its main industry until the 1960s.

The tranquil village is well-known most recently for cloning 'Dolly the Sheep' in the Roslin Institute in 1997, and for the architecturally interesting late-gothic Rosslyn Chapel, with beautifully detailed carved stonework, which includes the unique knotted Prentice Pillar at the south-east end of the Lady Chapel.

Built in 1447, Rosslyn Chapel, a cruciform collegiate church of St Michael, is surrounded in mystery with associations with the Knights Templar and the Holy Grail legend and features in the best-selling fiction novel, The Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown.

A little further south of the chapel stands the partial ruins of the 14th century Roslin Castle built on a rocky promontory jutting into the river.

THE HOWGATE - LUNCH

The long and low building was originally stabling for race-horses and more recently a dairy, producing a wide range of Howgate cheeses. Now refurbished, the atmosphere is warm and welcoming. An open log fire in the Bistro sets the scene while the Restaurant is cosy and a little more formal.

THE ROYAL YACHT BRITANNIA

Launched by the Queen in 1953, this magnificent ship has played host to some of the most famous people in the world. Heads of State, Monarchy and Prime Ministers have all enjoyed this very special ship.

But, above all, she was home to Her Majesty The Queen and the Royal Family. Furnished to her personal taste, each room was filled with photographs of her children, treasured family heirlooms, much-loved personal possessions and gifts from across the globe.

The ship had a full complement of around 300 Royal Yachtsmen and Royal Household staff who were able to put on the most splendid of state occasions from dinners to investitures.

The ship was de-commissioned in 1997. She is only open to the public for daytime tours. We have arranged for the exclusive use of the ship for the evening.
