Ferreira cuisine is Portuguese cuisine based on the principles of fresh and healthful products from the sea. We're not afraid to mix spices and ingredients or meat and seafood on the same plate all while keeping the meal light and delectable. Executive chef Marino Tavares works to ensure every meal is prepared to perfection. Tavares believes culinary pleasure is an experience that renews itself with each mouthful. His knowledge of fish and seafood preparation will almost certainly change your definition of the words delicacy, joy and perfection.

Price: $70.00 per person for 4-course meal. Excluding liquor, gratuity, and taxes.

This restaurant received enthusiastic reviews upon its 2005 opening and works hard to keep bringing the crowds in. The restaurant's website includes a quirky blog of reviews, YouTube films, and other stuff the staff likes, and hints at the hip following the restaurant has. Recent items have included Kobe beef and short rib with artichoke and fava beans; wild mushroom risotto; and yellowfin tuna with mushrooms, truffles, and eggplant.

Price: $72.00 per person for 4-course meal. Excluding liquor, gratuity, and taxes.

Orchidée Chine

Renowned for its fine Peking and Sichuan cuisines, the Orchidée de Chine delights connoisseurs of true Chinese gastronomy. Its varied menu includes its famous orange-flavoured beef, spare ribs and chicken in Sichuan sauce, sure to meet the approval of the most discriminating gourmet. Its elegant surroundings have won praise from the specialized magazine 'Contact' during a cross-Canada competition. 'Gourmet' magazine has nominated l'Orchidée de Chine amongst the 20 best tables in Montréal, all categories included.

Price: $50.00 per person for 4-course meal. Excluding liquor, gratuity, and taxes.

The Beaver Club, one of Canada's highest-rated restaurants, features classic haute cuisine and a quality wine cellar. Since it opened in 1959, the Beaver Club, has won countless awards and distinctions. The atmosphere of this restaurant is as sophisticated as the food. Decorated in a contemporary, luxurious style, the wood and stone walls are adorned with original crests for a traditional Canadian feel. Patrons can sit in opulent leather chairs and enjoy the beautiful quality linens in the warm dining room .

Price: $75.00 per person for 4-course meal. Excluding liquor, gratuity, and taxes.

Old Montreal Tour

(meet at hotel)

Cost: $45 per person

Duration: 2.5 hours (10 A.M.—1230 P.M.)

Minimum 10 No Maximum

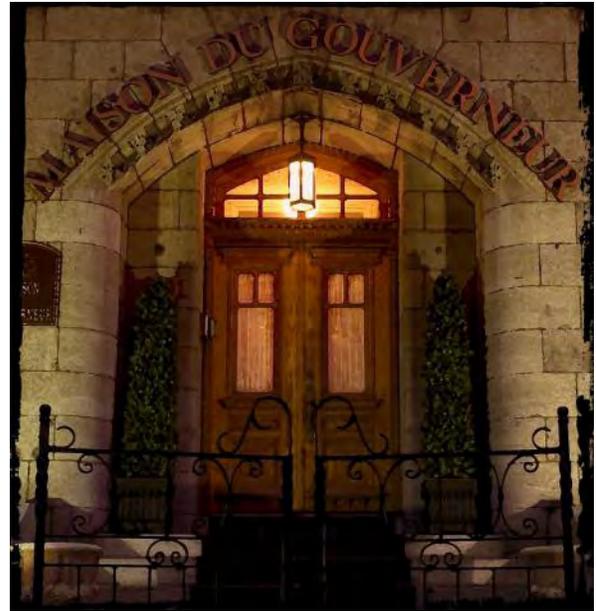

Old Montreal constitutes one of North America's most remarkable architectural ensembles. A stroll through a maze of narrow lanes and old buildings provides a perfect opportunity to discover Old Montreal's history and charm. With their exuberant display of architecture, the streets and buildings testify to Montreal's rich heritage and illustrate a period of its history.

You will see the first financial district, known as Montreal's Wall Street, located in the heart of Old Montreal, on Saint-Jacques Street. Among the many Victorian buildings are the Bank of Montreal, and the Royal Bank. The tour also features the Old Port, City Hall, the historic and new courthouses and Jacques Cartier Square, an area of café terraces, old world charm and Joie de vivre!!!

The Maison du Gouverneur was built in 1895 and named after Charles-Amédée-Vallée, the last governor of the Montreal prison. The prison governor's residence was occupied by the Vallée family until 1912, when the prison in the main building – called Pied-du-Courant - was decommissioned after the construction of the new Bordeaux Jail.

The prison, which is only steps away from the Maison du Gouverneur, has housed the head office of the Société des alcools du Québec (SAQ) since 1921. After being classified an historic monument, the SAQ began major renovations in 1989 to restore the Maison du Gouverneur to its former splendour. Upon completion of the work in the summer of 1992, the SAQ opened the Maison du Gouverneur to the public. The hauntingly beautiful heritage building basks in an uncommon light that filters through the towering structure of the Jacques-Cartier Bridge or shimmers across the surface of the slow-flowing river nearby. The SAQ's wine storage cellar, located next to the Galerie du Gouverneur, will soon house an unprecedented collection of 75,000 bottles. The storage cellar is truly fascinating. You can almost sense the mysterious alchemy of vintage wines as they slowly mature to their heady fullness.

Tours of the wine cellar and prison will be available during the evening.

This is the opportunity to discover the culinary diversity of Montreal. Starting in Old Montreal, this tour takes you in Chinatown to discover some typical and delightful Montreal specialities, then up trendy and multi-ethnic St. Laurent Boulevard, with its popular restaurants, night clubs, quaint groceries, bakeries and specialized butcher shops.

We'll visit the open-air Jean Talon Market, the biggest of its kind in North America, to savour the incredible cornucopia of fruits and vegetables grown by Québec producers. Our return trip will take us to the upscale Saint Denis Street for a glimpse of some of the hottest dining spots in town. Even if this is not your first trip to Montreal, you will certainly love seeing the city from a completely different perspective and will surely want to come back again!
